

The Green Serpent and the Cloud

Well here we go again. I repeat, I don't necessarily believe in visions for the Church Age, but on the early morning of August 18, 2006 I experienced something way beyond a normal dream, similar to the "Fire Beings" observed before. In all fairness to me, I've experienced thousands of dreams over the years, usually two to three a night minimum, so I'm quite familiar with what a normal dream is, its content, coloring, psychology and subject matter. (Thankfully, I've only had two or three nightmares my entire life.)

"I was standing in the kitchen looking out the window and I saw this cloud of vast size reaching up as far as the eye could see into the heavens. There was nothing else in the sky except this huge cloud. That, in itself, was worth noting. But there at the bottom of the cloud was this enormous green serpent that had completely coiled itself around the cloud with its head resting on the end of its tail. The green was not a dark green, nor was it iridescent, but a light medium green that stood out vividly.

As I stood there watching this in total amazement I yelled for my wife to come and see this thing. It was then that the serpent dropped from the cloud and landed on the street where we lived and was slithering away from us. There was no noise to all this, no shock, just a complete absorption into what was going on. Even the serpent had a lifeless, almost serene look on its face.

Next door my son and his family were living so I yelled for them to come over to the house for safety. It was then that I noticed that two doors down there was a lion of normal proportions watching the serpent as it slithered down the street away from us. It didn't seem to pose a threat to us. At the same time I also noticed that, about two doors down on the opposite of the street, there was a enormous household cat that was about ten feet taller than the garage it was standing next to."

I don't know what all this means, but I was left with the sense that it had spiritual significance. An interesting note is that in the Aztec and Mayan prophecies they had a green serpent winding its way through the galaxies. And this year scientists have discovered a magnetic force coiling itself around Orion like a serpent.

In the Mystery Religions the constellation Orion was said to be Nimrod, the first antichrist, deified in the heavens. In prophetic terms clouds were put for the heavens. And in the Mayan prophecies we have the serpent winding its way through the heavens, but in my dream, vision, or whatever you want to call it, there was the green serpent coiling itself around the cloud.

The significance? Where the serpent had been winding through the heavens it was now outside the heavens (cloud) and coiling itself around the cloud, as if to hang on to it. In the dream it was at the bottom of the cloud implying that it had begun at the top of the cloud and had been sliding down the cloud to the bottom, with no place else to go but to drop to the earth! It shows that at one time the serpent had access to the heavens, but had been expelled from the heavens. Now it was on the outside and fell to the earth.

The green serpent ties in with Satan, (the color green is also identified with the devil), and Orion is identified with the antichrist. We know that there is going to be a war in the heavens where the devil, who has had access for all these eons to and throughout the heavens, will be kicked out by Michael and his angels and be thrown to the earth. It will be then, when he attacks those who believe on Christ, and it will be then when he brings forth his son, the antichrist.

“And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.” Revelation 12: 7-10

This is a perfect picture of what will happen. The serpent starting out on the inside of the cloud, that is inside the galaxies of heaven, but is now found on the outside of the cloud, outside the galaxies of the heavens. He starts at the top of the cloud reaching up into the highest heavens, but slides down the cloud to the bottom of the cloud, from the top of the heavens to their bottom, and with no place else to go, he finally drops to the earth. Now he slithers off to accomplish his evil will on the earth. The lion appears to be watching him and will follow after him and deal with the serpent in the appointed time.

Call it what you want, accept it or reject it, but one thing is certain out of the thousands of dreams that I have had there have been only two that have had prophetic or spiritual significance, only two with the unbelievable clarity and sense that these two have had. Could it be that the time for Satan to come down to earth is close at hand?
